A common problem people experience is trying to control their spending. Much of the difficulty arises because people don't know exactly where their money is going. This is where the Track Your Money app comes in.
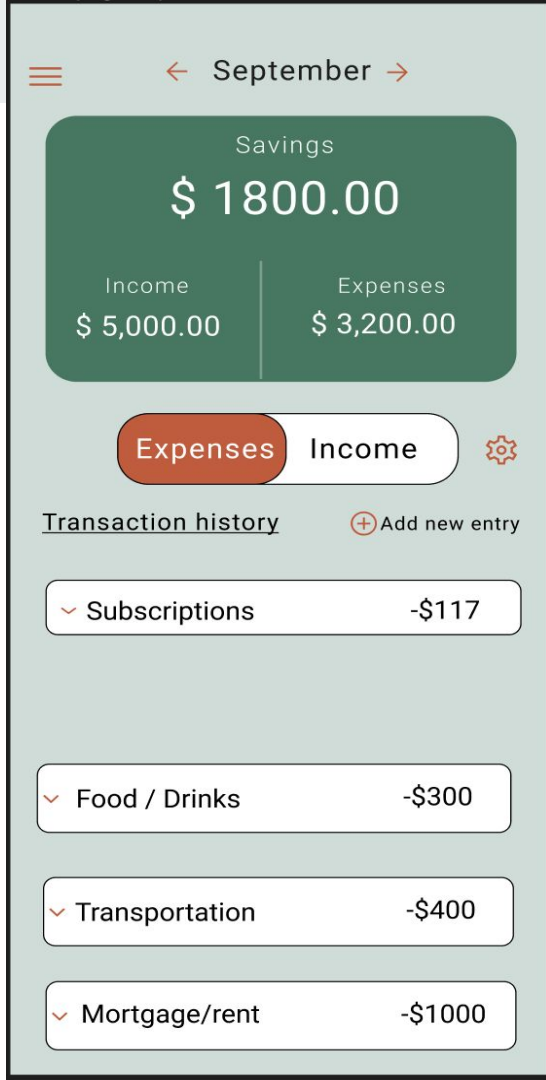

With Track Your Money App users will be able to track their expenses quickly and easily. Users will be able to input the day they spent money, how much they spent, and what exactly they spent the money on. The app also provides the option of recording income, and date it was received.
